

Assignment for PIPES and FIFO's

1. Simple program to demonstrate the use of a pipe to communicate between a parent and a child process.
2. Write a program to establish two way communication between child and parent using pipes.(send some data between both processes).
3. Design a program to establish communication between two process such that one process sends a string message to other process ,other print will print the message recieved , using FIFOs.